School Comm. Sees Budget Boost

Possibility of a $30,000 school budget increase for high school tuition next year was predicted by the Bethel School Committee this week. Preliminary figures covering tuition rates and number of pupils to be enrolled in high school next year were discussed in arriving at the predicted increase.

The committee pointed out that Bethel now pays tuition for 187 secondary pupils but that by next September the number is expected to rise to 226. This factor, plus increased tuition costs will require that about $105,000 be budgeted in 1962 for tuition only. In 1960, $64,600 was paid for tuition; in 1961, the figure rose to $80,600. These figures indicate an upward trend in the costs of secondary education.

Tuition rates last year at Gould Academy and Woodstock High School were $430. This year the Gould rate is $530 and Woodstock's $424. Rates for both schools are determined by a state supplied formula. However, in the case of Gould an act passed by the 100th Legislature increased by 10% (25% in total) the amount which

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

This week the snow plow frames are being mounted and equipment readied for winter use. Also snow fence is being erected. The 1957 records show that the town was supposed to have 8,850 feet of snow fence. Actual measurement in the fall of 1959 showed 3,600 feet or a difference of 5,250 feet. It has been a number of years since any snow fence has been purchased. Each year sections of the older fence has deteriorated by the wood slats breaking and the wires rusting and breaking, resulting in its being discarded. The greater part of the fence on hand is in poor condition, so that in another five years there will not be over one-half the present amount, and in ten years there will be none, unless a replacement program is instituted. The present price of snow fence is $190 per thousand feet delivered.

Notices were mailed on Monday to persons presumed to be no longer Bethel residents, that their name is being removed from the voter registration list. A card is enclosed with the notice so that if they wish to remain on the registration list, they may fill out the card with a valid reason and return it to the Registrar of Voters.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

POWER COMPANY PLANS INTERRUPTION EARLY THIS FRIDAY MORNING

COURT RULES OCTOBER AMENDMENTS INVALID

The Maine Supreme Court ruled last week that the two constitutional amendments approved by the voters in the special election Oct. 10, were invalid.

The state Constitution requires that referendums on constitutional amendments must be held during the month of November.

The opinion, signed by the court's six justices, was in answer to a request from Gov. John H. Reed for a ruling after the conflict between the October date, set by the Legislature, and the constitutional requirement was noticed.

One amendment would have authorized municipalities to finance construction of industrial buildings. The other would have restricted the use of State Retirement System funds to retirement purposes.

In answer to a second request from the Governor, the Supreme Court stated the amendments may be resubmitted to the people in November 1962.

OPEN HOUSE FOR BETHEL SCHOOLS

About two hundred parents and friends of the Bethel public schools were in attendance last Wednesday night at open house. They were able to observe the work being done by the children and discuss any problems with the teachers. The program was in connection with National Education Week. Each classroom was decorated with work being done.

Parents were also able to check on the book exhibit, displayed in the lobby, in observance of Book Week which immediately follows Education Week.

Deep appreciation is expressed by all concerned for the interest shown in this annual observance.

Douglas Bane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bane is a pneumonia patient at the CMG Hospital in Lewiston.

Miss Norma Ford returned Monday after a visit with friends in Ontario. She was accompanied home by Borden Lawsen and brother, Robert, who are spending a few days in town.

Trooper Bickford Handcuffed to Tree -- Culprits Captured Nine Hours Later

Mrs. Loretta Smith, 23, of Kansas City, Mo., was committed to the jail at South Paris Wednesday when she was unable to furnish bail of $2500. She was charged with felonious assault and robbery of State Trooper William Bickford of Bethel Tuesday night. The case was continued to Friday morning. Her companion, a 15 year old boy who she picked up in Oklahoma, is also in jail awaiting contact with his parents.

The reported assault took place about 11:30 Tuesday night in the vicinity of the Favreau mill on Route 2 near West Bethel. Trooper Bickford had stopped the vehicle because of a headlight defect, when the woman held a pistol on him while the boy handcuffed him to a tree and took his pistol. The officer managed to reach his key and unlock himself in less than a half hour and radioed the Scarborough barracks.

Road blocks were soon set up in Maine and New Hampshire, and about nine hours later the pair was captured as they attempted to pass the road block at Lynchville as they approached from the direction of Bethel. Troopers Harry Hansen and Gerald Boutillier fired and stopped the car and the pair fled into the woods. The pair are said to have stopped during the night on the road near Songo Pond leading to Albert Skillings' farm.

According to a police report, Mrs. Smith left Kansas City Oct. 30 and picked up the boy in Norman, Okla. Driving to Miami, Fla., and coming north they held up a service station in Jacksonville and later broke into a camp in Massachusetts. They bought gasoline, oil and several tires on credit cards and sold the tires later.

In the car were found suit cases, a portable television set and a foot-long live alligator which they reportedly picked up in Georgia.

Work Starting on Nazarene Chapel

The Maine District Church of the Nazarene has recently purchased the John Howe property located on Broad Street in Bethel. The house will be used for a parsonage for the new pastor and family who will be arriving shortly to take over the work. The other building on the property will be converted into an attractive chapel as a temporary place of worship until a permanent church building is provided. The chapel will then be used as a youth center for young people's activities.

Work on the building will begin this week. The plans call for improving the property and making it attractive. The walls of the chapel will be of knotty pine and celotex planking with tile ceiling and fluorescent lights. Church doors with a vestibule will be added to the front. The entire building is to be painted.

Rev. Donald Arey of Dixfield will be in charge of the services until the new pastor arrives. The first meeting will be this coming Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Until the chapel is ready, services will be held in the house. Upon the arrival of the new pastor a full schedule of meetings will be conducted as follows: 10:00 a. m. Church School; 11:00 a. m. Morning Worship; 7:30 p. m. Evening Service. The mid-week service will be held on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Church of the Nazarene which is of the Evangelical Christian Faith, stresses the forgiveness of sins and the cleansing of the heart by faith in the Atonement of Jesus Christ. Music has a big part in the services with a fine and practical preaching from the Word of God.

A cordial invitation is extended to all in this general area to visit any and all of these meetings.

EDITORIAL

"Is it American to believe that everyone who disagrees with you is dangerous and should be silenced effectively by being labeled Communist, a label leading to probable loss of job and prestige? The ultra-conservative movement in question believes these things to be American."

The above paragraph appeared in the Citizen last week in a letter to the editor. It is quoted here because it appears to be a proper time to state the policy of this newspaper. The Citizen has been listed for many years as independent. Certainly it has upheld neither of the major political parties editorially, and it is not likely to do so now as both parties generally are involved in the trend toward complete socialism.

Probably the Citizen, when it infrequently ventures an opinion, is ultra-conservative. Surely the paper's editorial policy has never upheld many of the New Deal's appealing novelties which presently find favor with the leaders of both parties.

Whatever our label may be in the eyes of the "liberals," let us say that our income taxes would be paid more happily if we believed they were producing the ideal results pictured in last week's letter. It appears that the once-hungry Communists are still Communists when well fed at our expense, and we suspect that this nation will sometime have to curb the habit of encouraging a growing deficit and adopt a realistic method of living within our means.

A conservative, of any degree, is likely to be viewed with doubt as to his motives. Perhaps a dream of ideals of other days, dissatisfaction with the present or genuine doubt of future soundness may account for the slight hopes of the conservative. But it is really to be hoped that a conservative is possessed of many of the admirable characteristics of the human race in general, and is disposed to consider the sincerity of those who are not in sympathy with his ideas and is quite unlikely to brand many of them as Communists.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, November 16
Read John 4:21-30
"Come, see a man who told me all that I ever did. Can this be the Christ?" (John 4:29, R. S. V.)

During a campaign of evangelism for youth in Sweden, a boy visited one of his friends of the same age to witness for the first time to his belief in Christ. Afterward he gave this testimony: "I have been a confessed Christian for four years, but now for the first time I realize what it really means."

We do not discover how wonderful it is to be a Christian until we begin to share our faith with others. Then our eyes are opened to God's riches which are in Christ. All the time His riches were there to be possessed, but we did not realize it. When we begin to tell others of our faith, Christ becomes more important to us than ever before, for He adds faith to our faith when we share it.

Yes, great blessings are to be found in sharing our faith in Christ with others. Thus we spread the good news to those who need to hear the gospel.

PRAYER: O Lord, help me this day not to put my lamp under a bushel, but cheerfully to profess Thy name and spread the gospel. For the sake of Christ, who loves all mankind, and taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. . . Amen."

Thought For The Day
The more you share the gospel with others, the more you receive for yourself and others.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

NOVEMBER WOODLAND

No man need be lonely if he counts trees as his friends. In the twilight time of year when the leaves are on the ground and the hardwood boles of great trees resemble cathedral pillars, he who will can walk a woodland and find strength and solace among friendly trees.

Among the oaks and hickories, beeches and birches, all is quiet and open. The leaf carpet is a restful pattern of muted hues, moist and soft from autumn rains. Walk reverently here, for beneath one's feet is the rich black humus—the primal basis of life. In these fallen leaves and in the bodies of trees fallen to earth, are the chemicals and minerals that 'till will one day live again in stately trees.

The low-circling November sun paints a picture in the woodland. Bark patterns are clear; gnarled limbs and pointed buds on branch tips are clearly revealed. In those tightly-wrapped capsules are next year's leaves and blossoms, waiting for a winter to pass and the time of earth warming.

Go into an evergreen grove and inhale the resin-fragrant air; listen to the music of the pines and hemlocks, spruces and balsams as they respond to a passing breeze.

A November hardwood woodland is open and revealing. One can study the starting saplings, trees in full maturity, and the ancient patriarchs that have lived out their lives. Only trees to the thoughtless who travel the trail with eyes on the ground; but life itself to him who knows that a forest is a living organism. Trees, a part of Nature's plan, are an example of ordered living to man who too often unduly complicates his life.

SENIOR M. Y. F.

We opened our meeting with a worship service led by Linda Paine and Jane Luxton. Next week it will be led by Trafton Foster and Bob Clemons.

We discussed the dance we are going to put on for the P. T. A. at C. P. S. next Friday night. We picked eight members to plan and chaperone this dance. They are: Stephen Dock, Nancy Brown, Reggie Brown, Bill Keoskie, Jane Luxton, Cindy Freeman, Ed Tibbetts, and Bob Clemons.

We are having council meeting around the end of this month. We also discussed the hymn sing that we are planning. The roll call showed that there were 20 members present.

Linda Nickerson and Bob Clemons led a very interesting discussion on the cold war and how it effected us as teens.

The MYF wishes to extend a special invitation to any adult who is interested to attend the regular Friday night dances that we sponsor. We hope you will feel free to accept this invitation any Friday night that you are free to come.

Respectfully submitted, Secretary, Nancy Brown.

My thanks also to the Hanover Dowel Co. employees and Pythian Sisters for the lovely flowers, and to the Rebekahs for a pleasant evening. May God bless you, one and all.

SCHOOL NEWS

The committee awarded the 1962 contract for fuel oil for Bethel schools to the Bethel Oil Co., as low bidder.

Other committee action at last Monday's meeting included: approval of application for National Defense Education Act funds (50%) to finance the purchase of a new movie projector to replace the present obsolete projector at CPS; review of the present school building and content insurance policies and suggested increases in coverage possibly to be covered under a single institutional type policy issued to the town; approval of an adult education poll to determine if there is sufficient interest in the area to warrant such a program this year; and, announcement of plans to meet with the teacher's salary committee.

The adult education poll will be taken Monday, Nov. 20, when poll forms will be sent home with all school children. Forms will also be available at the town offices in West Paris and Bethel. Anyone residing within Union 22 is welcome to complete and return one of the forms expressing interest in adult education and the courses which could be offered. Completed forms should be returned to the town or schools in either Bethel or West Paris.

New science equipment for the eighth grade has been received at Crescent Park. The equipment which includes a mobile science laboratory was purchased as part of the eighth grade departmentalization plan begun this year. Purpose of the plan, as previously announced by the school committee, is to permit better secondary school preparation of elementary pupils.

It is anticipated that the new science equipment will permit an improvement in the amount and quality of science preparation by introducing new material into the course and allowing experiments to be performed in the class room.

The equipment was acquired under the National Defense Education Act which provides that 60% of the cost will be paid by the federal government.

NEW SUNDAY RIVER LIFT

—TRAILS NEARLY READY

This past week end saw the completion of the painting of the lift towers, now in alternating colors of red, blue and yellow. The upper section of the old Cascades trail has been smoothed and leveled and now, along with the Rocking Chair, will be skiable with a minimum snow cover. The new upper trails from the summit are finished and ready, and the additions have nearly doubled the total skiable acreage. The new 2 1/2 mile Lazy River trail will be of particular interest to novice and intermediate skiers in this area.

From Bethel village the new upper terminal on the summit of Barker Mountain is clearly visible with field glasses or to those with exceptionally good eyesight. The cable on the new lift has been spliced, and the T-bars will be attached soon.

As the area readies itself for the first snow, inquiries about the area and local accommodations are arriving from as far away as Kansas. Many of these mention the friendly reception received from the people of Bethel on previous visits.
